

Jerry Siegel was born in Selma, Alabama in 1958. He started his education at the University of South Alabama in Mobile and proceeded to earn an honors degree at the Art Institute of Atlanta in 1982. Jerry has worked as an advertising and corporate photographer for the last nineteen years.

During that time Jerry has photographed many recognizable faces. Colin Powell, Jimmy Carter, Hank Aaron, Jane Fonda and Michael Vick. As well as CEO's of corporations including BellSouth, Delta, SouthTrust Corporation and American Cancer Society.

Clients include: MetLife, Equifax, BellSouth, Coca-Cola, SouthTrust Corporation, WestPoint Stevens, American Cancer Society, Boys and Girls Club of America, Habitat for Humanity, girlsfirst, Anne E. Casey Foundation. Powell Goldstein LLP, McKenna Long Aldridge.

His fine art work is in the collections of Lucinda Bunnan, The Ogden Museum of Southern Art, the Telfair Museums, Jepson Center for the Arts, Loeb Partners, Boyd Collar Knight LLP and The University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.